Police call on victims to report any police ill actions in Gold Ridge to PSII

Acting Commissioner of the Royal Solomon Island Police Force (RSIPF) Mr. Mathias Lenialu calls on any victim of the alleged police misconduct at Gold Ridge to come forward with evidence and report it to the Professional Standards Internal Investigation Department (PSII).

The call came after allegations were leveled against police for heavy-handedness that triggered the unrest at GRML recently.

The place to report those allegations against police officers is at PSII located at Central Police Station. Report it so that further investigation is conducted for a proper decision to be made to deal with any officers involved.

Reporting such to the media is a democratic right of an individual, but it will be more helpful for those victims to come forward and make a formal complaint to PSII.

Acting Commissioner Lenialu said the RSIPF is a neutral, transparent, and disciplined organization that always upholds its core values to keep its integrity when making decisions on such allegations.

“This commitment to integrity ensures that the RSIPF maintains community trust and confidence. By prioritizing accountability and fairness, the organization aims to foster a safer environment for our people through its services,” said Mr. Lenialu.

He said to effectively address these concerns of improper police behaviors, the RSIPF is urging victims to come forward and report their allegations to the PSII Department of the RSIPF.

The police chief said this proactive approach not only encourages victims to come forward but also reinforces the RSIPF's dedication to transparency and fairness in dealing with such allegations.
